Working Principle of Sewage Treatment Plant

1. The Sewage water (containing bathroom and kitchen waste) from entire college as well as the hostel buildings are received through the underground pipe lines.
2. It is passed through grid chamber, bar screen chamber and degreasing chamber. In the grid chamber heavy density materials like sand are removed. In the bar screen chamber floating material like leaves are separated. When the Sewage is passed through degreasing tank the floating greasy (Oily substances) materials are scrubbed away from the degreasing tank.
3. Then the Sewage is transferred to collection tank.
4. From the collection tank, Sewage is pumped to Bio reactor (Aeration tank). In the Bio reactor the Sewage is digested by aerobic bacteria using sewage as food materials.
5. The above treated water is passed through the sludge settling tank. From here the sludge is separated and passed to Sludge drying beds. After drying the sludge, it is used as natural organic manure for our gardening.
6. After removing the sludge, the water is collected in a separate collection tank.
7. This water is then pumped to sand filter and activated carbon filter. In the sand filter suspended particles are removed. In the carbon filter, any odour in the treated water is removed.
8. The filtered water is then collected in a sump. From this sump, the water is pumped to the entire college Gardens through over head tank

REPORT ON MAKAR SANKRANTI CELEBRATION

Report on Makara Sankranti Festival Celebration

Every year Makar Sankranti is celebrated in the month of January. This festival is dedicated to the Hindu religious sun god Surya. This significance of Surya is traceable to the Vedic texts, particularly the Gayatri Mantra, a sacred hymn of Hinduism found in its scripture named the Rigveda.

This festival marks the end of the long, cold, winter months and the onset of spring. In ancient times, it was the time when the shift of the sun resulted in longer days. So, it is a celebration of the change of seasons - from a harsher to a milder climate. A sign of hope and positivity.

This festival is celebrated in honor of Surya (the Sun God) to pay tribute for the grace of his energy that has enabled life and food on earth. As it is the harvest festival, it is a time of joy, abundance, and celebration in the farming communities, the time when they reap the fruits of their hard labor. It is also a time for peace when families bury the hatchet and get together.

- ✓ Makar Sankranti is celebrated in Karnataka with great joy and enthusiasm.
- ✓ People clean their houses, decorate the entrance with mango leaves and rangolis (decorative designs made with rice flour), and wear new clothes.
- ✓ They exchange ellu-bella (sesame seeds and jaggery) sweets, fried groundnuts, pieces of coconut, sugarcane, and banana, offer haldi and kumkum, and wish each other.
- ✓ Kannadigas also wish their near and dear ones the same way their Marathi neighbors do: 'Ellu Bella tindhu olle mathadu'. It means, 'Eat the ellu (sesame seeds) and bella (jaggery) sweet, and speak sweet words.'
- ✓ Some newlywed women follow a five-year ritual where they give away bananas to other married women. They have to increase the number of bananas they give away each year in multiples of five.
